

User Persona CV – Explanation

For this User Persona CV, I made a survey on Google Forms with some CV related questions and sent it to some of my friends. The answers i recieved gave me good data to base my CV off of. When it came to the name and stock photo, I just chose whatever I came up with or saw first and thought fit the personality of what I wrote down, as for the information, I chose different answers that correlated and made sense together from different responses on my survey. Some of the answers were similar to each other onm a few of the questions so for those I decided to keep the answer the same, but as for the questions that had very different answers I picked and chose what correlated and made sense together.

The questions and answers:
